MONUMENT TO GARIBALDI—"KNIGHT OF THE RED SHIRT."

The unveiling of the National Monument for the Thousand at Quarto, in memory of Garibaldi—"Knight of the Red Shirt" and his band of 1000 volunteers who practically completed the unification of Italy in 1860, was a signal for the greatest pro war demonstration seen in Italy. Though the event was one of the most important National occurrences of the year King Victor Emanuel did not attend on account of affairs of state.
